

CAPABILITIES STATEMENT

More than three decades ago, our founders developed a process for applying fluids to a substrate. It's a way that puts quality and control back into the hands of our partners. A way that ensures the highest quality and the latest in fluid applicator innovations. A way that saves you time and money, boosting efficiency and effectiveness, increasing quality and worker safety. And, along the way, our founders set up a company that has not only pushed the bounds of the fluid application industry, but created a workplace built on compassion for its employees. We may have created an industry, but that's only one source of our pride.
